

The "Frostbite Classic" Comes to the Georgia Dog Gym

On Saturday, February 27, from 12pm to 4pm, the Greater Atlanta Dog and Disc Club (GADDC) will be in Rome at the Georgia Dog Gym for the FROSTBITE CLASSIC! This is a Frisbee Disc Clinic that is open to anyone interested in the sport of Disc Dogging. This clinic will include frisbee throwing skills and dog disc training skills. Instructors will be on hand to help you learn all about frisbee throwing. Groups will be based on skill, so if you've never thrown a frisbee before - or if you're good at throwing, but just want to improve - this clinic can help you out. The GADDC promotes safety in their training, so you will learn how to teach your dog how to land safely, how to track the frisbee, how to increase drive, and also the best brands to purchase for each type of dog. The cost to the public is $15 for each dog and handler team.

If you show up early, Cyndy Douan will be instructing a FREE Dog Nutrition Seminar from 9am to 11am on the morning of this event. If you are curious about what the ingredient labels on your dog's food mean and you want to compare your foods to others on the market, come and find out more about dog food selecting and best feeding practices to help keep your dog in tip top shape!

We'd like to thank Beth Mitchell for sharing her expertise and instruction in Canine Massage last month. We received a lot of great feedback from this seminar and I believe that you can tell from the looks on some of these dogs' faces that they enjoyed it too!

Siobhan kicks back into some really good massaging that Sam Gentsch is giving her.

Czar stares off in a trance while he enjoys some shoulder massage that Randy Durham is soaking on him. "AAAHHHHH...."
